

Introduction

Todd Robins, a World War II veteran who served in North Africa and was a member of the Army Corp of Engineers, founded what became Robins & Morton in 1946. Since then, Robins & Morton has grown from a modest construction firm into one of the top contractors in the United States. A commitment to exceeding the expectations of our clients has allowed us to complete more than 1,000 successful construction projects in both the private and federal sectors.

Our Government Services Division is committed to supporting the mission of our fighting men and women, both active and veteran. We are currently working with several Department of Defense (DoD) and Department of Veteran Affairs (VA) branches.

Robins & Morton has a DoD approved subcontracting plan and is committed to the Small Business Administration (SBA) and their goal of supporting small business growth. We are also an approved Department of Veteran Affairs mentor protégé participant and have partnered with Service Disabled Veteran firm, Coburn Contractors, LLC, to pursue VA and other government related opportunities. We are currently entering into the SBA and Navy mentor protégé programs. We are an active supporter of small business subcontracting initiatives and constantly strive to exceed the goals put out by all government agencies.

The unique relationships we have with our clients are driven by the core values of our company. We are proud of the fact that over 80% of our customer base today is made up of repeat clients. We take great pride in receiving outstanding CCASS and CPARS ratings from our clients because we treat their goals and needs as our top priority.
